

LO: To write a flashback

I tried to remember how I got caught up in this mess...

The day was like no other the sun was beaming and my friends came over to my house and we all agreed to play our favourite game manhunt but to play it in the spooky woods. When we got there I spotted the rather strange thing on the floor, more than that it was summer the red types of leaves usually seen in autumn were lying on the ground kind of in the way a trail is set out. I pointed this out to my friends but they were not really interested what so ever. When we started the game I went back to the leaves retracing my steps and I knew that they were a trail. The leaves led me to an old fashioned log cabin which was leaning slightly to the left but I thought it would be the perfect spot to hide in so I went to the door and to my surprise it was ~~it~~ unlocked so I opened it and crept inside. The only thing in the cabin (apart from a door stopper) was a emerald embroidered chest which seemed big enough to fit me in. But when I opened the lid the chest was filled with sparkly, gold, shiny coins and the type of bead necklaces someone in the Royal family would wear. They were all so beautiful. Then... I heard the noise
